INT. EXERCISE ROOM

Three hipsters are standing in the same format three fitness people would for a workout DVD.

WREN

Heyyy, welcome to the hipster workout. I'm Wren, I'm not going to tell you anything about me because I don't want society to steal my identity. Are you ready? I don't care, let's do this. Oh wait, let's introduce the others.

WREN walks to the one girl next to her.

WREN (CONT'D)

This is Margot she makes a great Americano and used to love Bernie and is pretty upset about the future of our society.

MARGOT

So jokes, I still love him, Mr. Sanders you're my idol.

WREN

Please, we know he doesn't work out.

WREN walks to the girl in the back.

WREN (CONT'D)

This is Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN

Hey, I'm a part time DJ, part time Trader Joe's associate.

WREN

She'll be doing the modified workout which means she'll be doing the easier one for beginners. What's the easier workout, Brooklyn?

BROOKLYN

Just hiding in a corner listening to some new beats. I don't believe in getting involved in works or any social functions because it's a form of communication that is ruining the world.

WREN
Accurate. Whatever, let's move on.

WREN walks to the center.

WREN (CONT'D)
Hit it, Atticus.

Some hipster music starts playing, clearly not proper workout music.

WREN (CONT'D)
Let's start by pretending to put on your jeans, they're like super tight so get into it. Move your legs up and down and fight the zipper to stay closed.

The two of them do the tight jeans dance.

WREN (CONT'D)
Once you are metaphorically ready with your fake pants on. Do a neck roll, but only side to side because you're just feeling out the song and connects you more to the music.

Everyone does neck rolls for a little bit.

WREN (CONT'D)
Once your neck is warmed up and the music gets better start moving back and forth, dancing, because you really dig this music.

The two of them just shuffle their feet back and forth.

WREN (CONT'D)
PBR break. Because water is too fucking mainstream.

Everyone opens up a can of PBR and drinks it.

WREN (CONT'D)
While you're drinking it, it also helps doing arm raises because you're like sucking the proverbial dick of the man anyways by existing and consuming, might as well get your arm ready for the hand job you'll give the government later.

They move their arms up and down drinking their PBRs.

WREN (CONT'D)

Margot, take over I am sick of talking to these facists.

MARGOT and WREN switch spots.

MARGOT

Okay let's get some books and put them into our unnecessarily large tote bag with a meaningful quote on it. You need to re-read anything by Kurt Vonnegut and David Sedaris, I say re-read because you obviously should have read it already. Put them in your bag and move your arm up and down. Repeat on the other side.

Everyone does the handbag exercise.

MARGOT (CONT'D)

Now fix your hair because you fucked it up doing this work out. No, it's still not fixed, no not yet, just keep playing with it.

Everyone moves their hair around.

MARGOT (CONT'D)

That will have to do. Next time wear your fedora. Well I'm tired, let's sit.

Everyone grabs a chair.

Just sit down on the chair and stand back up. And sit. Basically squats except you're just trying to get comfortable.

Everyone sits and stands over and over again.

MARGOT (CONT'D)

Once you're finally comfortable just sit there, we're done. Hopefully you enjoyed the work out, if not I don't really care because I do what I want, I'm not conforming to society. Bye.
